Your stories through scent...

You'll maybe notice a tiny change of style when you turn this page to our big 'Scoop' story. Rather than a savage murder or some other bloodshed, we're leading this week with silly old Rosie Webster's appearance on This Morning with Phil and Holly. Our reasoning? Well, we've had a brutal few months of it, haven't we? What

"We've had a brutal few months of it..."

with Emmerdale's acid attack, Aidan's suicide over in Weatherfield, and young Shakil's stabbing in EastEnders. All very important stories, of course, but all together it's been "a lot of a lot", as my hard-working deputy editor Gary likes to say. So let's enjoy some fun for a change.

In addition, Rosie actress Helen Flanagan has been an Inside Soap favourite since she was barely tall enough to see over the cobbles. Plus, with Helen heading off on maternity leave, you can have fun spotting the ways they've found to hide her baby bump in the photos!

HOTTEST headlines...

Rosie's life looks set to change forever this week, as she transforms into superwoman to bring her scheming ex-boyfriend Antoine to justice.

Determined that slimy Antoine will get his just deserts, Rosie joins forces with Craig and Gemma, and leaps into action. But typically oblivious to the danger she's about to land herself in, it's a minor miracle when Rosie and her crack team somehow manage to win the day.

Their drugs bust creates a national furore, turning the trio into celebrities overnight – and when they are invited for an exclusive interview with top telly hosts Phil and Holly on This Morning, Rosie is beside herself with excitement!

"It's the most amazing thing that's ever happened to her," grins Helen Flanagan, who plays Rosie. "It makes her life to go on This Morning and meet Holly and Phil. However, she does get in quite a lot of trouble before she gets there..."

CONTINUED OVER ➤

INSIDE SCOOP

FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

Rosie's dream come true gets off to an unlikely start, as she unleashes her dangerous bid to avenge Antoine's dodgy deeds. Hell-bent on ensuring her former boyfriend won't go unpunished for planting drugs on her and other unsuspecting wannabe models, Rosie stuffs a pile of cocaine in Antoine's luggage while he prepares to return to the States.

"What could go wrong?!" laughs Helen. "Antoine's been in Weatherfield to organise a photo shoot which Rosie was hired for. She's made friends with another model, Olivia, who's been seeing Antoine – and Rosie realised that he's planted drugs on her in the same way he did to Rosie when she left LA last year.

"So she's had this brainwave to substitute the drugs in Olivia's bags for icing sugar, and pass them on to Antoine's drug-dealer mates before putting the actual drugs into Antoine's luggage – so he'll be caught with them when he tries to fly home to the US..."

DOUBLE TROUBLE

It's no wonder Rosie's so intent on getting her own back on Antoine. The pair got together while she was struggling to get her doomed modelling career off the ground in America. A lack of work eventually forced her to return to Weatherfield – a humiliating experience made even worse once she realised that Antoine had heartlessly used her as a drugs mule.

"He gave her a package to take home and said it was just sweets for his friend," sighs Helen. "And as she's so naive, she believed him. Gemma set her up for this modelling job by pretending to be her agent – but when Rosie saw Antoine's name on the photo shoot schedule, it all turned sour.

"She was very nervous to see him again – he's a drug dealer after all. Anyone in their right mind would run a mile, especially since Rosie lost all his drugs in the end! So she did think twice about the job, but decided to front it out. And that's when she discovered that Antoine's done the same thing to Olivia as he did to her."

Rosie's crazy scheme goes to plan to begin with, as Olivia hands over the icing sugar to Antoine's unsuspecting cohort,

Gemma is soon rumbled as she tries to get one over on Antoine

"Everyone loves Holly and Phil!"

Helen talks This Morning – and her alter ego's dramatic exit...

While Rosie jets off to Japan, expectant star Helen is getting ready to give birth to her second daughter with footballer boyfriend Scott Sinclair. The new addition to their family will be a little sister for two-year-old Matilda Jessica – and as happy Helen heads off on maternity leave, she's delighted Rosie has finally had some good luck...

It looks as if you had a great time filming Rosie's scenes with the legendary Phillip Schofield and Holly Willoughby – how was it?

Rosie has plenty of good news to share following the drama and he gives her an envelope stuffed with cash in return – but that’s the easy part! Next, Rosie must transfer Antoine’s cocaine into his bags without him noticing, so he’ll be in for a very unpleasant surprise once he reaches airport customs.

“Antoine catches Rosie and Gemma planting the drugs!”

“Of course, it doesn’t work out!” wails Helen. “Antoine catches Rosie and Gemma in the act of planting the drugs, and they end up in bother after Antoine forces Rosie to help him with another dodgy deal.”

Claiming that he’s no longer dealing drugs and is in fact working undercover for the police, he dupes Rosie into getting involved. He pins an MP3 player to her clothes, claiming it’s a wire providing direct contact with officers, before sending her off to wait for a man called Alan and pass over the drugs. But it soon transpires that Antoine isn’t telling the truth – and with Rosie facing big trouble, she’s fortunate that pals Gemma and Craig are on hand to provide vital back-up...

DAYTIME DRAMA

Unsurprisingly, the Weatherfield drugs drama causes a right old hoo-ha as news of the unlikely heist spreads – with Rosie and her team causing so much of a sensation that they bag themselves an invite on to the This Morning sofa, for a chinwag with Holly and Phil.

“Rosie arrives late for the interview, of course!” chuckles Helen. “But she looks a million dollars – and following the chat, she ends up being approached by a modelling agent.”

Having been treated so badly by Antoine, Rosie is thrilled when her new agent announces that she has a job in Japan, working on a TV game show. Her celebrity whirlwind continues with the news that she must jet off immediately – and as her family gathers on the cobbles to wave her off, Rosie’s on cloud nine. But will her new-found fame take her away from the Street for good this time?

Allison Jones

It was really fun. Everyone loves Holly and Phil! Whenever I’ve met them, they’ve always been so kind. I think everyone will enjoy watching Rosie’s This Morning scenes – they’re very funny. And it was great going on to the show in character as Rosie, rather than as Helen.

alongside all the dramatic storylines involving Phelan, David and Aidan.

How have you found hiding your baby bump while filming?

I’ve had to wear lots of floaty dresses that fall really well over the bump to disguise it, and we’ve filmed with lots of different camera angles. Rosie’s big pink handbags have been extremely useful, as well!

What do you make of Rosie’s dramatic departure storyline?

It’s typically Rosie! It was so much fun to do. And the great thing about this storyline is that it leaves the door open for me to come back again after I’ve been on maternity leave.

You were only nine years old when you first joined Coronation Street – do you still enjoy playing Rosie?

I love playing her. And I’ve really enjoyed doing all her comedy scenes since I’ve been back at Coronation Street. I think that they’ve played out so well

Debbie disowned!

HORRIFIED SARAH WANTS NOTHING TO DO WITH HER...

Debbie finds herself outcast from her family this week – when the Dingles find out that she was the one who ordered the assault that scarred Ross for life!

Debbie's daughter Sarah is particularly disgusted with her mother's behaviour, and Debs is heartbroken to hear that her girl is refusing to see her! So could Debbie be about to lose her kids because of what she's done? And will Ross report her crimes to the police?

"At first, Ross thought he'd like to see Debbie behind bars – but thinking about Jack and Sarah, he might reconsider," explains actor Michael Parr, who plays him. "In the wake of what's happened, he's got to let bygones be bygones and move on. He's purely doing it for the kids at this point."

Following the showdown at Home Farm, where Debbie was shot by unhinged Ross, the pair seem to be on an even keel. However, while Debbie stands to lose everything if the truth comes out, Ross doesn't believe he's in the same boat.

"Cain thinks it will be even from that point – 'She threw acid in your face, you shot her, let it go!'" quips Michael. "But it's deeper than that, as they have been lying to Ross for so long. Ross is in a dark place at this point – even though he has Moses, in his head he has got nothing left to lose any more."

Ross really doesn't care what happens to Debbie at this point!"

Debbie and Cain are on tenterhooks as they wait to see what Ross' next move will be – however, they're watching the wrong Barton brother! And while Ross self-destructs, it's actually Pete who lets the cat out of the bag to the Dingles...

Furious about what Debbie's done, he confronts her in the Debbie and Sarah, it's clear that the youngster is in no forgiving mood. However, will Ross take any pleasure from the fact that Debbie's life is now in ruins?

"Ross really doesn't care what happens to Debbie at this point," insists Michael. "This is the final nail in the coffin for him. I think he still loves Debbie – but he realises it's never going to work, as she really is an evil bitch!"

So, with Debbie now public enemy number one with the Dingles, is there anything she can say to talk round Sarah?

Sarah Ellis

A DATE WITH DISASTER!

Ross and Rebecca arrange to go on a date this week – but when she accidentally stands him up, he gets passionate with drug addict Dawn instead!

The events unfold after Rebecca's brain injury causes her to forget she's meeting Ross – damaging his fragile ego. So when Dawn arrives, the troubled fella decides to bed her just to get back at Rebecca.

"He's gutted when Rebecca stands him up because he thinks it's all about his image," shares Michael. "He used to crush ladies, and now he's struggling. He's beating himself up about it."

"Ross regrets what happens with Dawn – but it's been so long since he's had anyone showing any affection. When Rebecca doesn't arrive, Dawn makes him feel good again."

So, do he and Rebecca still have a chance at a future together?

"They might have a bond, but their reality means they both have too many issues to be in a relationship," says Michael. "But who knows in the future?"

pub and accuses her of ruining Ross' life! Chas bundles Debs into the back and demands to know what's going on – which is when she's forced to reveal the truth about the attack.

Both Chas and Sarah are horrified by what they hear – and although Faith later tries to facilitate a meeting between

Who stole a fortune from the club?

MEL AND JACK TRY TO FIND OUT WHO TOOK THE £15,000 FROM THE E20 SAFE...

EASTENDERS | BBC1 MONDAY

Mel is put in a tricky situation this week, as Phil demands she find out who robbed the missing £15,000 from E20. But could the true culprit be her son, Hunter?

When they discover that the money has gone missing from the club's safe, Sharon and Phil call a crisis meeting with Mel. Of course, none of them realise that Hunter and his friends had been in the club on a recent evening, and so are the prime suspects!

"Phil reckons it was Mel's responsibility to make sure the club was locked," points out our Walford insider. "So if she can't find out who stole the money, then she's the one to blame for the shortfall. But he doesn't want to be completely unreasonable, so he gives her till the end of the week to think of a way to solve the problem and get the money back. He must be in a generous mood!"

The next day, Mel shares her problem with Jack. Along with Billy and Woody, Mel and Jack put their heads together to think about how the robbery could have taken place, given that there appears to be no evidence of a break-in.

"Billy suggests the robbery might have been an inside job – though he may as well be putting his own head on the chopping block," chuckles our mole. "However, he does have a valid point. Whoever stole the money must have had a key to the club. Woody then points to the empty bottle left on the bar, suggesting it could have been drunk by the thief. If the fingerprints can be positively identified, they might help track down the culprit..."

Billy suggests that the robbery could have been an inside job..."

Mel defends her son when Jack accuses Hunter of being guilty

Jack thinks Keegan did the deed - but soon turns his attentions elsewhere

Jack is soon convinced that the guilty party is Keegan, and the ex-cop accuses the lad of stealing the money from the club's safe – demanding to know who else was involved!

“Keegan’s prints might be on that bottle, but he doesn’t know anything about the cash,” says our spy. “It’s clear Jack is in no mood to mess around, though. Bernadette tells her brother that to prove his innocence, they will have to find the real thief! The pair assemble the rest of their mates who were with them in the club that night – Hunter, Louise and Bex – and accusations start to fly back and forth. Could this destroy their friendship?”

Desperate to clear his name, Keegan returns to Jack and tells him that Hunter is the one who stole the cash. But does he know for sure, or is he just saying anything to save his own skin? Jack isn’t sure what to believe, though he realises his only choice is to confront Hunter about the matter.

“Of course, when Jack steams in, accusing Hunter of being the thief, Mel jumps to her son’s defence,” explains our snitch. “She doesn’t want to believe it might be true. Jack realises it’s no use trying to get answers while Mel’s around, and so tells her that he saw a crowd of police heading over to E20, causing her to rush off in a blind panic. But once he’s alone with Hunter, will Jack get the answers he needs?”

Tom Spilsbury

IAN TRIES TO WOO MEL!

But as she agrees to a meal with her ex, what else does she have in mind?

As Mel tries to think of ways to solve her cash woes, she heads to the chippy and tells Ian she needs a new food supplier for E20. Ian is only too happy to help out, informing Mel he will cook her a sample dish – a fancy fish’n’chip supper – to see if it’s the sort of thing she wants for the menu. Keen to get one problem solved at least, Mel agrees.

“Oh, silly old Ian,” groans our Square insider. “He thinks he’s in with a chance with Mel, even though they’ve been divorced for almost 20 years! He’s convinced he has a hot date with his ex – and if he can just perfect his recipe, things will be cooking between the pair of them in no time. He’s a dope.”

But it transpires that Mel has an ulterior motive for agreeing to the meal. As the pair sit down together, she finds an excuse to send Ian out of the house while she looks for the valuable necklace Ben gave to Kathy. Will she find what she’s looking for?

Ian cooks up a dinner for Mel – but is he the one being fed a lie?

SEAN-HOMELESS AND UNDER ATTACK!

His shock new storyline revealed...

Sean emerges from a public toilet in a terrible state

Coronation Street's Antony Cotton recently teased that a huge plot was in the works for Sean – and by the looks of these new filming pictures, he wasn't kidding!

Our sneaky snaps of the star shooting on location show Sean sleeping rough in a tent that he appears to be sharing with a homeless girl. And that's not all, as further shots reveal that the poor fella is left bloodied and bruised after being the victim of a savage attack in a public toilet...

"I've begun filming the first part of a plot that is going to run for quite a while over the summer," shares Antony. "It's a really unusual storyline, very serious and not what people would expect from Sean at all."

"I was taken aback when I first heard what it was," adds the star, who has been playing Sean since 2003. "It's a poignant story that is very close to my heart."

With so many friends in Weatherfield, Sean is one of the last people we would expect to end up on the streets – but it certainly looks as though he's heading that way. There are no details yet on how the former Underworld and Rovers employee – who is currently staying with Fiz – will end up in this situation.

It wouldn't surprise us if he's too proud to own up to his loved ones back on the cobbles – which would explain the stunned look on Shona's face, when she stumbles across Sean's tent while walking David the dog.

Will Sean be forced to reveal the truth behind his drastic new living arrangements? And how much worse will things get?

Shona can't believe it when she sees Sean

Just how has Sean ended up in this desperate situation?

GOODBYE, ROSS!

Another Barton bites the dust...

It pains us to bring you such disappointing news, but unfortunately, the rumours are true – Emmerdale's Michael Parr is quitting the role of Ross Barton!

Both the star and one of the show's new producers, Kate Hall, have confirmed that he'll bow out later this year – although Mike has given fans a cheeky incentive to persuade him to stay...

"I've had the best few years at Emmerdale, but it's time to move on and explore other avenues," explains the actor, who became an instant hit with viewers when Ross pitched up five years ago. "However, if I win a British Soap Award, I might stay!"

We will miss Mike's naughty banter when the time comes to say goodbye – but in the meantime, Kate tells us that her team is busy crafting an 'intriguing' exit story for the village bad boy. We're too devastated to even contemplate what that could be right now!

SINEAD COMES HOME!

Stephanie Davis is returning to Hollyoaks...

In what can only be described as the most unexpected but totally awesome casting decision to emerge from soap this year, Stephanie Davis is reprising her Chester role as Sinead O'Connor!

The star hit the headlines in 2015 after Hollyoaks terminated her contract amid reports of her behind-the-scenes conduct. Media scrutiny followed when Steph had a baby with fellow Celebrity Big Brother contestant, Jeremy McConnell – from whom she is now separated after a turbulent relationship.

"I am delighted that Stephanie is returning," enthuses the soap's series producer, Bryan Kirkwood. "She is a hugely talented actress, who has worked hard to overcome some personal issues."

Sinead – best known for falling pregnant with gay best friend Ste's baby, marrying bad boy Freddie Roscoe, and her illicit affair with her stepmum Diane's then-fiancé, Tony – will be back in the autumn.

EastEnders stars speak out in the wake of the show's hard-hitting knife plot...

TOGETHER WE STAND

EASTENDERS

While EastEnders viewers reel from Shakil's brutal murder as a result of knife crime, stars of the show have opened up about their feelings and connections to the subject.

"It's every parent's worst nightmare," shares actress Lorraine Stanley, whose character Karen's son Keegan was also stabbed, but was lucky enough to survive. "I've got a two-and-a-half-year-old daughter, and I'm already worrying. I live in London, and I just want to get out.

"It's not just London, though, that's the thing," adds the star. "A child can just be in the wrong place at the wrong time. They don't even have to be in a gang. It's a scary thing because it ruins lives. Everyone loses out."

Meanwhile, Tony Clay – who plays Halfway – knows only too well what Shakil's loved ones are going through.

"Ten years ago we lost a mate to knife crime," the actor confessed on Twitter. "If these episodes can stop another family or group of mates experiencing that grief, the show has truly done its job."

Turn to p48 for our interview with Zack Morris (Keegan) as the fallout from the boys' attack continues.

INSIDE SCOOP

Dubious Roy goes along to Rosemary's psychic event...

CORONATION STREET | ITV WEDNESDAY

Roy Cropper to the rescue!

CAN HE OUTWIT ROSEMARY AND EXPOSE HER AS A FAKE?

Sceptical Roy is on a mission to prove psychic Rosemary is a fraud this week – before Gail pays her £3,000.

Having been told that evil ex-husband Richard Hillman has put a curse on her family, terrified Gail is desperate to remove the hex by any means necessary. For her, the tragedy and heartbreak that the Platts have experienced is proof positive that Richard means business. So when Rosemary offers to get rid of the curse if Gail pays her cash, it seems like a good deal...

"The problem Gail has is that she doesn't have a few thousand pounds burning a hole in her bank account!" muses our Street snitch. "Let's not forget that she's renting a room in the house she used to own, and she doesn't command a big salary. To get her hands on that money, Gail has to get herself into debt. But she thinks it's a small price to pay if it means her family will be safe from Richard's curse."

Although she's a sensible woman in many ways, Gail's desperation drives her to make the foolish decision of taking out a payday loan. Worse still, she decides to tell a white lie on the application form and lists Roy Cropper as her employer, and keeps her fingers crossed that they won't get in touch.

The trouble is, Roy does get a call – and he's incredulous when he confronts Gail, as she tells him what the money is for. Roy's long been contemptuous of Rosemary and her link to the spirit world, convinced that she is preying on vulnerable people and merely a con artist. But seeing how fearful Gail is,

Gail has to get in debt – but it's a small price to pay for their safety"

CARLA!

It was Roy who sussed Tony Gordon was the evil killer who'd murdered Carla's true love Liam, and he tried to expose him. He's stood by Carla through failed marriages, gambling and alcohol problems – and even tried to donate his kidney to her!

CATHY!

When lady friend Cathy failed to turn up to a dinner engagement, suspicious Roy went round to her house to find out what was going on. There, he discovered the self-confessed hoarder had been trapped by heavy boxes that had fallen on her – and he rushed in to rescue her.

BATS!

Weatherfield's pipistrelle population owe plenty to Roy, a devoted conservationist. He fought the bats' corner when Tony Gordon tried to smoke them out of the Underworld site, refusing to budge when he was offered money to steer clear.

Roy agrees to lend her the money himself – if she lets him come along to the séance too.

"Rosemary has been wary of Roy from the start, so she's not best pleased that he's joining them for this important ritual," whispers our insider. "But Gail is adamant, and so Rosemary does her best with what she has. Interestingly, she makes contact with two new spirits during the session – Gail and Audrey's old pal Alma Baldwin and Roy's beloved Hayley. Gail can't believe it, and is full of emotion and awe as Rosemary works her magic!"

Despite Hayley's 'visit', Roy is completely unmoved by Rosemary's séance and confides in Audrey that there must be a rational explanation. Rosemary is holding a psychic event nearby the next day, so Roy and Audrey decide to go along with Gail to suss it out.

Will the trio be able to unearth the truth behind Rosemary's gift, or is the kooky psychic the real thing?

Doug conned as Gerry is laid to rest!

OVERCOME BY GUILT AND GRIEF, DOUG IS A VULNERABLE MAN...

As Gerry is laid to rest this week, Doug remains convinced that he was responsible for the teenager's tragic death.

Painfully oblivious that Lachlan was actually Gerry's brutal killer, Doug is weighed down by the burden of what he believes he has done. So when mysterious stranger Terry – who claims to be a relative of Gerry's – notifies Doug that he's suing the B&B for Gerry's death, the broken man can barely cope. But can Terry be trusted?

"This is all just absolutely devastating for Doug – he thinks he killed Gerry," sighs Duncan Preston, who plays Doug. "He's mortified, and in a state of flux. Gerry was someone who he could talk to, and they were learning from each other. He knows he'll be facing charges for Gerry's death, and he reckons that he deserves to be!"

When Doug discovers the supposedly grieving Terry sleeping in his car, he offers him a free room at the B&B. Having already pleaded with the man to drop his lawsuit, Diane and Pollard are understandably stunned as Doug announces that Terry will be their guest. But while Doug believes it's the least he can do, others are not so sure about the newcomer.

"Doug just wants to atone for what he thinks he's done to Gerry, and believes Terry can be trusted," shares Duncan. "After what's happened, he can only see the good in people, so he has no suspicions of this man whatsoever. He thinks he's doing Terry a favour and hopes he can persuade him not to sue the B&B. But there's every chance that Terry is only out for his own gains..."

When Terry later tells Doug, Diane and Eric that he'll be dropping his case against their business, Doug's convinced that it shows he was right to have faith. But – ironically – it's Lachlan who's next to start suspecting Terry of being up to no good, after Liv shows him Gerry's hand-drawn comics. Knowing they could incriminate him for Gerry's death, he asks Terry to hand them back – but, sensing his desperation, Terry refuses. Doug then confides in Lachlan that he's sold his car to give Terry money – revealing Terry's true colours in the process.

Doug just wants to atone for what he thinks he's done..."

Terry is given a complimentary room at the B&B

Is the mysterious Terry genuinely a relative of Gerry's, or is it all a con?

"I adored Gerry!"

Duncan Preston reveals why he misses Gerry – and the actor who played him...

What did you make of this storyline when you first heard about it?

All I knew was that somebody was going to die, and I thought, 'Who could it be?'. I always hoped that it wasn't going to be Gerry – so it was a sad day when I found out! I wish the story could have gone on for longer, because it was lovely to have Shaun Thomas [who played Gerry] around.

It sounds as though you've really enjoyed working with Shaun...

I have. As Duncan, it was very easy for me to read Doug's eulogy for Gerry, because I miss Shaun so much. He grew up close to where I did, in Yorkshire – at very different times, obviously! I adore Shaun, and I adored Gerry.

Do you hope that Lachlan's crime will be uncovered soon, then?

The sooner the better, so I can go back to being Doug again! Get him back on an even keel. Doug's lost so much because of what Lachlan's done. And Diane is very angry with him.

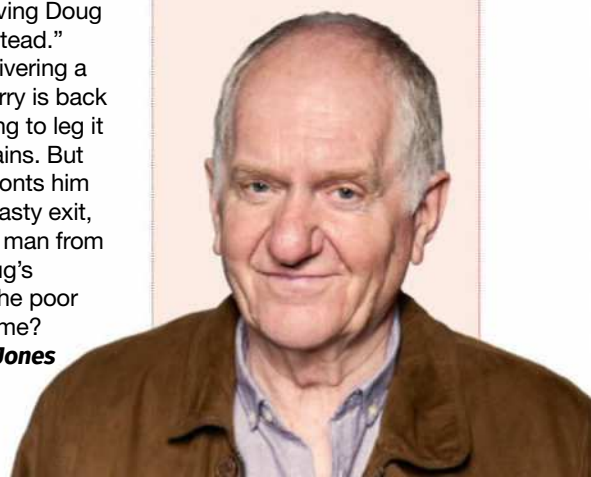

"It's just as the funeral is starting that Doug tells Terry he's put the cash in his room," explains Duncan. "Terry's supposed to be reading the eulogy, but as soon he knows about the cash, he bolts – leaving Doug to do the eulogy instead."

While Doug is delivering a heartfelt speech, Terry is back at the B&B, preparing to leg it with his ill-gotten gains. But when Lachlan confronts him in the midst of his hasty exit, will he stop the con man from making off with Doug's money – or betray the poor man for a second time?

Martin & Stacey's saucy antics!

THEY'RE CAUGHT IN A COMPROMISING POSITION BY THE POLICE...

Martin gets to grips with his and Stacey's exciting new romance

Sonia can't believe the bare-faced cheek of her ex's behaviour

Martin and Stacey's marriage is well and truly back on track this week – and the couple are certainly making up for lost time in the bedroom department!

The newly reunited pair just can't keep their hands off each other, and even get jiggy in the back of Martin's van. But there in the first place was because she felt that their relationship had become too boring and predictable," our EastEnders insider reminds us. "So now are red faces all round when the naughty duo are caught in the act by the local constabulary!

"Part of the reason Stacey cheated on Martin they're back together, Martin's keen to prove that he can be exciting and spontaneous – and Stacey's thrilled! However, it's not such great news for their poor neighbours, who are constantly finding them at it like rabbits in public places!"

As the week kicks off, Martin and Stacey head over to Dot's empty house to spend some quality time together – but when Bex arrives home unexpectedly, Martin just can't break the news to his daughter that he has reunited with Stacey. Unsurprisingly, his missus is furious, and reckons that he's ashamed to be seen with her!

Determined to teach her feckless hubby a lesson, Stacey agrees to go on a date with one of Shrimpy's mates – and happily flaunts her new fella in front of Martin in the Vic! Her stunt has the desired effect, prompting Martin's jealousy to bubble over – and before long, the pair are back together, and up to their saucy tricks again.

As they resume their naughty antics back at Dot's, the duo are mortified when Sonia walks in on them! She tries to cover her upset by explaining that them being back together will just confuse Bex – but it's clear from Sonia's reaction that she's still harbouring feelings for her ex-husband.

Martin's oblivious, though, as he and Stacey plan their next sexy rendezvous. Realising they will have to find somewhere else for their shenanigans, the couple take themselves off to the allotments – where Ted almost has a coronary when he catches them carrying on in the shed! However, while he sees Martin's face, he only sees Stacey from behind – and jumps to the conclusion it's Sonia who Martin's getting down and dirty with...

Before long, gossip has spread round the Square that Martin and Sonia have been behaving amorously in the potting shed, leaving Sonia mortified. But the truth is about to come out in embarrassing fashion, when the cops catch Martin and Stacey having an energetic make-up session in the back of his motor.

"The guilty looks on Martin and Stacey's faces say it all!" chuckles our mole. "There's no hiding what they've been up to – the entire Square can see! Maybe it's time that they finally came clean and just admitted that they're together again, so they can go back to having special cuddles in the privacy of their own home."

So will Martin and Stacey find themselves facing charges for their frolicking? And will this humiliating moment bring their very public displays of affection to an abrupt end?

Sarah Ellis

2028 Already a mum-of-three, Stacey finds herself pregnant again at 40 – and gives birth to her second son, Martin Junior.

FACING THE FUTURE

Could Stacey and Martin be the new Pauline and Arthur? Here's what they have to look forward to...

2039

After being framed by Max Branning, Martin is sent to jail once again – and dies behind bars, aged 54.

2031 Struggling for cash, Martin embezzles money from his neighbours via an online donation scam. When he's finally caught out, he suffers a breakdown.

2034

With Stacey away in Spain helping out her poorly cousin Kat, lonely Martin begins an affair with his ex-wife Sonia! Stacey is furious when she finds out.

2049

Estranged from her kids, Stacey dies after falling over in the snow on Christmas Day – with only her dog Bradley by her side.

Can anyone help Alfie?

HIS LOVED ONES FINALLY WORK OUT THAT HE HAS A SERIOUS PROBLEM...

Alfie's mental health crisis leaves him in mortal peril this week – as the teen ends up at the top of the archway in the village!

Viewers are aware that Alfie has been hearing a voice in his head for quite some time, and it's been persuading him that his loved ones are out to get him. But it all reaches a crescendo in this special episode dedicated to Alfie – who finds himself in danger...

"Alfie ends up at the archway, and from that point on we don't know what's going to happen," teases Richard Linnell, who plays the troubled lad. "What I will say is that there is some peril involved, and all we can hope is that Alfie finds help."

As the week kicks off, Tom becomes increasingly concerned for his pal's mental health, and tries to persuade Alfie to see a doctor. But with the voice in his head still influencing him, Alfie becomes convinced that Tom is working with the government to try to bring him down!

"He then overhears Tom phoning Marnie, and telling her that they need to get Alfie some help," explains Richard. "By this point, Alfie is incredibly paranoid, and the voice is quite threatening – so he's convinced that everyone is out to get him. In his state he realises that all he can do is go on the defensive, so he ends up barricading himself in the Cunningham house."

Reckoning that he must have superpowers – since he brought Sienna back from the dead – Alfie concludes that he got them from his biological mum, Cindy. Therefore, she,

Holly and Hilton must have them, too! Alfie is determined to keep the whole family safe, but when they wake up to find him holed up in their living room, Alfie's loved ones are very worried indeed.

"They come downstairs to find Alfie having a full-blown mental health crisis," shares Richard. "They quickly realise that he's really not well, and they're trying to work out how

"Alfie is convinced that everyone's out to get him..."

Poor Alfie becomes convinced he must have supernatural abilities

The Cunninghams get increasingly worried by Alfie's behaviour to calm him down and get him some help. But Alfie eventually decides that he's not safe in the house, and breaks out – which is when he ends up at the archway.”

Richard's sworn to secrecy about what happens next. But he says filming the episode was pretty full-on...

“These scenes are really intense – there's about eight people in each of them, and they're all about four or five minutes long,” he enthuses. “But they are so well written – some of the best I've ever seen in the show. And the actors I was working with were absolutely brilliant – I couldn't have asked to be locked in a house with better people!”

Alicia's rape nightmare!

SHE'S HORRIFIED TO REALISE WHAT'S HAPPENED TO HER...

Alicia wakes up in bed with her colleague Eddie this week – and it's soon clear that something terrible has occurred.

The doctor was all smiles when she agreed to go home with the handsome trainee following a drunken kiss in the pub. But judging by the panicked look on her face the next morning, whatever unfolded after that moment was not something that she ever consented to...

"The first thing you see is Alicia lying in bed, looking pretty distraught," reveals Chelsea Halfpenny, who plays her. "At that point, what's running through her head is, 'What has just happened to me? What am I going to do? How am I going to get out of this bed?'. In her gut she knows what's gone on, but she doesn't quite believe that this has happened to her."

Even though it's her house, Alicia gets dressed and bolts, running through the streets in the dark until she gets to work. It's clear from her behaviour something is amiss – yet she can't bring herself to admit to anyone that she's been raped.

"Being a doctor is quite trying anyway – but on this particular day, Alicia ends up going out to a coach crash," explains Chelsea. "So on top of what would be a stressful shift anyway, she's having these flashbacks to what went on the night before. She thinks that she can just forget about it, but we see her struggling to do that throughout the day – leading to a gradual decline in her emotional and physical well-being."

After Alicia pushes herself so hard that she faints, her colleagues are worried that something is very wrong. But just when she's about to confide in Ethan, work gets in the way.

"Alicia feels really lonely, as she reckons nobody will understand," sighs Chelsea. "Then she sees a friendly face in Ethan – I think when you're feeling most vulnerable, you seek out the people who know you best. There are lots of points in the episode where she's about to tell him – people will be screaming at the screen for her to just get it out."

At the same time, Alicia is doing everything she can to avoid Eddie, who seems to be under the impression that they had a great night together. But given that they work so closely, she can't stay out of his way forever...

Casualty has confirmed that this storyline will run for the rest of the series – and Chelsea tells us that she's honoured to be at the centre of a very intense plot.

"I was excited when I found out about it – this is such a huge and important storyline," she shares. "I immediately felt that I needed to get my head screwed on, because we had to do things properly. I didn't want to get to the end and feel that we hadn't done it right."

"If this story makes one person feel less alone, or gives them the courage to confide in somebody, we've done our job," adds Chelsea. "Encouraging people to speak out is the most important thing."

Sarah Ellis

Chas' secret heartbreak!

SHE CAN'T TELL PADDY THE TRUTH...

Devastated Chas continues to live in denial this week, as Paddy makes grand plans for their baby.

Now doctors have told her that her baby has a condition that means it will not survive, Chas is nursing the terrible secret all alone. She can't bear to believe that they are going to lose their much-longed-for child – and can't bring herself to break Paddy's heart too.

Instead, Chas has gone into complete shutdown about the reality of her situation. She hasn't said a word to anyone, and is clinging to the hope that her doctor has got this all wrong. In a bid to carry on as normal, Chas busies herself with getting the nursery ready, thinking that if she continues with their plans, it will be all right. But once inside the room where she's confronted by reminders, it all becomes too much for Chas, and she breaks down.

As Chas struggles to accept what's happening to her baby, Paddy remains in the dark about the unfolding tragedy. He's excited when he finds out they can have a 4D scan, and tells Chas he's going to book it ASAP. His enthusiasm triggers panic in Chas, who knows she won't be able to hide the truth for much longer.

Will Chas be able to halt Paddy's plans before he finds out, or is she finally ready to break the terrible news to him?

Style icon Kirk is asked to join Sharon clothes shopping

CORONATION STREET | ITV FRIDAY

Sharon makes a move on Kirk!

WHAT WILL BETH HAVE TO SAY?

Cueless Kirk finds himself in a pickle this week – when client Sharon tries to mix business with pleasure.

The good-natured fella has been earning extra cash by walking Sharon's pooch, but it's not just his canine services she's interested in. Following advice from Tyrone, Kirk told Beth a white lie about Sharon's age and attractiveness, and it could cost him dearly. That's because Sharon's on a mission, and Kirk is her prime target!

"Beth will go ballistic when she finds out that Sharon is younger than she thought and has designs on her husband," warns our Corrie snitch. "Kirk doesn't realise that he's a catch – being a kind, lovely man who adores dogs. Sharon is quite smitten, yet Kirk's been oblivious to her interest. But the penny is about to drop."

Kirk meets up with Sharon for a dog-training session, and they get chatting about their lives. Sharon talks about her ex-husband and Kirk happily discusses Beth and their relationship. He doesn't notice when Sharon clouds over at the mention of his other half, and he doesn't find it strange when she

BLOOD ON THEIR HANDS

While I'm usually a big fan of the shock twists that Hollyoaks comes up with, Glenn killing Adam was a step too far. Him shooting his own son in cold blood was bad enough – but his crony Jay dumping the body bag at Maxine's feet was just far too gruesome for teatime.

👤 | Sue, Chelmsford

DIGGING DOUG

I feel so sorry for Emmerdale's Doug. The poor guy is blaming himself for Gerry's death – when we all know that horrible Lachlan was responsible! I really hope that Lachlan gets found out soon, otherwise Doug will spend the rest of his life feeling guilty about something that wasn't his fault.

👤 | Jackie

The only crime Doug has committed is being the most boring man in the village...

FOWLER PLAY

Martin had better not be Hayley's babydaddy in EastEnders! I think it would be far more interesting if Alfie turns out to be the dad, and

Can Doug fix it? No, he can't actually – but Gerry's death wasn't his fault would explain more about the beef that Kat has with Hayley and the fact that she doesn't want to speak to her husband. Leave Stacey and Martin to be happy!

👤 | Darryl

It's almost like you saw this storyline coming, Darryl!

Colby or not Colby?
That is the question
for smitten Jasmine

ALL THAT JASMINE

I'm really loving the burgeoning romance between Jasmine and Colby in Home and Away. They're great additions to the show, and they have both been through a really rough time, which is why I think they would be good for each other. They also have brilliant on-screen chemistry! I just hope that Colby lets his guard down so Jasmine can be there for him.

👤 | Holden

Colby has no time for romance – there are too many bad guys for him to catch!

BAD WIFE

I hope that Amanda and Jimmi in Doctors don't become a couple – Jimmi is genuinely a nice guy, and is too trusting, but Amanda is a manipulative control freak. Not a great match!

👤 | Dawn

They must have thought they were at some point, or they wouldn't have got hitched!

Finn has a real Bea in his bonnet over what Elly did to him

BEAS IN A POD

Bravo to Neighbours for its casting of Elly's sister, Beatrix. I can't get over how alike the two of them look! It's uncanny. I'm not so thrilled about nasty Finn being back, though – he's horrible.

👤 | Lauren

Check out next week's Inside Soap for our chat with Bonnie Anderson, aka Beatrix.

ZEE YA LATER

I was disappointed with Zeedan's exit in Corrie. He was great, and could have done so much more on the cobbles – there was no need for him to go. Plus, after he attacked that guy and left him for dead, it looks highly suspicious for him to suddenly flee Weatherfield!

👤 | Cathy, Nottingham

Would you rather poor Zee went to jail for his crime?

SHINING SONS

I'm really looking forward to seeing the fireworks between Ali and Ryan in Corrie now that they're both in town for Michelle's wedding. I thought that I would be Team Ali all the way, but I actually found myself warming to Ryan when he arrived!

👤 | Jim

Michelle really doesn't look old enough to be mum to either of them, does she?

Corrie's sponsorship deal with Jacamo is coming to fruition

SHAKIL'S TRAGIC END

There was violence in Albert Square when a ruthless gang targeted Keegan and Shakil, stabbing them and leaving them for dead! And while Keegan pulled through, Shaki wasn't so lucky...

It was heartbreaking to see Keegan and Shakil being senselessly stabbed. Similar crimes are happening in London practically every week, so the episodes have been uncomfortable to watch. However, it is good to raise awareness of such tragedies, and the impact these crimes have all round. The aftermath scenes will be so emotional – I hope the killer is caught.

👤 | Manisa

I'm so upset they killed off Shakil – he was such a great character. But I look forward to seeing his older brother Darius and dad Umar finally coming to the Square. It will cause more stress for Carmel and Kush, no doubt.

👤 | Darren, Stoke-on-Trent

Well done to EastEnders star Zack Morris – his portrayal of stabbed Keegan had me crying my eyes out, especially when he was desperately trying to tell Mick about Shaki. The fact that the two boys were attacked in such a brutal way was bad enough, but Shaki may have been saved if he'd been found sooner.

👤 | Kylie, London

But not everyone was full of praise for these episodes...

While it was important for EastEnders to tackle the subject of knife crime, I think it was silly to have the Hayley plot running alongside it. The drama was all on the Square – I don't care about some wannabe Slater and a random girl we don't even know on the tube. There should have been more focus on Shakil.

👤 | Gina

How will poor Carmel cope without her beloved Shaki?

WHO'S THE BOSS?

The guy who plays Ben Astoni's new builder boss in Home and Away looks familiar. Surely he must have been in Neighbours?

Becca met a grisly end following a turbulent time in Hollyoaks village

BEC IN THE DAY

In Hollyoaks the other day, Nancy received a letter from someone called Fran, who apparently killed her sister. What's the story there? I was too young to watch it then!

📍 | Michael

Nancy's older sister Becca Hayton (Ali Bastian) was a teacher, who was sent to prison

THE BIG interview

As the Queen of Darwin makes a sensational return to the ward, Rosie Marcel gives us the low-down on her Holby past, present and future...

HOLBY CITY | BBC1 TUESDAY

Jac Naylor’s return to Holby City Hospital was never going to be short of amazing – but trust us, you’ll be gasping at your television screen upon learning why she is back! Meanwhile, fresh from taking a break, star Rosie Marcel reminds us that she is worlds away from her fearsome alter ego in a friendly and candid chat – and she’s sporting a fabulous new look...

Welcome back, Rosie. We have to say, we love your new hair!

Thank you very much. Since I was about 16 years old, I’ve always had long straight red hair – so I decided to cut it all off and bleach the hell out of it! I checked that it would be okay with Holby City as I was out of contract at the time – and now finally I don’t look like Neil from The Young Ones any more. It’s actually quite nice!

Did Jac’s break from hospital mean that you had time off as well, then?

Yes, I decided that I needed to take a rest. I hadn’t really had one in 12 years, except for the six months that I took off to have a baby – and that is definitely not a break!

When you joined Holby in 2005, did you ever envisage staying this long?

No! When I joined back in those days, they were signing people for three years at a time, and for a 27-year-old, that felt huge. Originally, they didn’t know what to do with my character – and I remember the producers pulling me aside and thinking, ‘I’m going to lose my job’. But they said, “We’re going to make you a massive bitch,” and from then on just continued

The nutty professor: Gaskell has been lying to his colleagues to write incredible stories for me. That’s the reason I’ve been here so long.

And you still love playing a bitch?

I do, that’s the reason why I love Jac! She doesn’t suffer fools, and says all the things we wish we could say, but don’t. I think she’s gone a little soft of late, so I would like to see her get tough again. That won't be for a while, though, as some bad stuff has to happen first.

Indeed – don't expect Jac to scrub in where she left off, as her visit to Darwin ward sees her approach Professor Gaskell and insist on being the next patient to undergo his pioneering stem-cell treatment! What Jac doesn't know is that John's surgery has a higher mortality rate than the so-called miracle worker leads his colleagues to believe...

Please tell us that Jac isn't going to have Gaskell's operation!

Well... During Jac's time off, she has been trying to recuperate from this scar tissue that has built up in her back from the shooting. She seems healthy and fit when she returns, but she's masking quite a lot of pain. So I think that she has thought long and hard about what is the best option for her, and unfortunately that is Gaskell.

Copping off: Rosie and Alex previously played romantic partners in The Bill

Playing doctors and nurses: Things are tricky between Fletch and Jac – will it be make or break?

But she might die! And Holby isn't averse to killing off main characters. I know! They are going to kill off someone fairly soon actually – and that's a main character – so there really is no fear when it comes to doing stuff like that. Who knows what will happen to Jac?

Tell us about her reunion with Fletch – is there still a spark?

I think there is. Alex [Walkinshaw, who plays him] and I really love playing the Moonlighting element of it, like Cybill Shepherd and Bruce Willis. Obviously Alex is Cybill Shepherd!

What did you both think about being paired up, having played love interests on The Bill, too?

It's funny – we knew it would happen! We really fought against it actually, mainly because Jac isn't right for Fletch and vice versa – and if it went somewhere, would the audience be left feeling disappointed? Jac is a complicated soul and I don't think she would want to be unfair to Fletch, but who knows? We could end up snogging! And that would be awful – it would be like snogging my brother!

Rosie goes on to explain that she's all for the representation of strong women – now more than ever. While on leave from Holby, the 41-year-old star – who is mum to Beau, age three – made sure that she put herself first, while spending quality time with her family.

Did you get to do the things you wanted to during your break?

The main thing was, and I'm not scared to say this, I had a nervous breakdown the year before – and I think it's very important to talk about mental health and how one deals with it. So I just needed to take a break from Jac and Holby and get myself healthy. It was about spending time with my daughter, and I also went to see my sister in New Orleans. It's amazing how the time flew, and of course there is always more that you want to do.

Now you're back at work, are you able to strike a balance?

Yes, absolutely. I think you have to manage your time really well when you're a working mother, but also make sure to give a little time to yourself. I give everything to my job, but when I find myself giving too much, I pull back. Nothing requires 100 per cent of your time and that's an important lesson that I've learned the hard way – but most definitely have learned.

Do you ever imagine a time when you're not playing Jac?

It's funny you should say that, because it's rumoured that I'm doing the next series of I'm A Celebrity..., and actually I would really like to do it! I think it would be very fun to go to the jungle and see how I do. So yes, I do imagine not playing Jac – but I know that I'd miss her and want to go back to Holby afterwards.

What is your proudest moment from your time on the show?

I'm extremely proud of the BAFTA award that we won, as it shines a light on how hard we all work. I'm not sure I've ever been nominated for an Inside Soap Award actually, and you guys have a Best Bitch category. I can't believe Jac has never been up for that! If I'm not up for that award next time, I'm going to be really annoyed. Jac has to win that, hands down!

Laura-Jayne Tyler

High FIVE!

Rosie's Holby best bits...

"A great plot to play was Alan Clooney trying to assault Jac, later followed by her beating seven bells out of him! That sounds terrible, being based around violence, but it was so much fun! I love doing stunts."

"I enjoy popping into Casualty, as I adore seeing Amanda [Mealing, aka Connie]. I hear that we might have something this year, which is exciting. I'd love Jac and Connie to race their motorbikes together!"

"I have a pretty good knowledge of how the heart works thanks to playing Jac – though I'm sure that I would break someone's chest if I ever had to do compressions in real life!"

"The trickiest surgery I've had to 'perform' is a very rare procedure, the hemicorporectomy, when you kind of cut someone in half. It took us days to film, but thank God for our prosthetics crew, who are amazing."

"We all know Joseph [Byrne] was the one for Jac. Luke Roberts, who played him, has his own show in the US now, but he has promised he'll return when it's my time to go, so that Joseph can whisk Jac away. That's if they don't kill her off!"

“Carla Connor has finally met her match!”

THE BATTLE FOR UNDERWORLD IS ON – AND ALYA’S READY, SAYS CORRIE’S SAIR KHAN...

CORONATION STREET | ITV FRIDAY

War is declared in Weatherfield this week, as Alya Nazir finally discovers that Aidan left Underworld to her. She’s been in the dark about his last wishes while the Connor family has tried to find a way to invalidate his will, but their efforts are foiled. The shock news comes when Alya storms out of the factory following a huge row with Carla, who’s assumed control following his tragic suicide.

And so, with the battle lines drawn, things are about to get nasty...

“Alya’s out to prove that she’s no pushover!” shares Sair Khan, who plays her. “She’s attempting to keep alive the vision that she and Aidan had. She played an instrumental role as she helped rally the troops when the factory was robbed, and has put a lot of blood, sweat and tears into it. Underworld means a lot to Alya.”

She’s so committed to the future of the business that Alya has worked hard in the weeks since Aidan took his own life, to support Carla and drive things forward. But their working relationship is uneasy at best, particularly given that distraught Carla knows what her late brother wrote in his will.

Worse still, she isn’t on board with the direction Aidan and Alya were taking the factory in, and that’s causing rows in the office.

“Alya has a strong idea about where the factory is heading, but Carla keeps undermining her,” sighs

Sair. “Alya doesn’t believe in what Carla is doing, and she doesn’t think that it’s what Aidan would have wanted.”

The simmering tension reaches boiling point when Alya goes out on her own to secure a large order from client Macnees. She’s triumphant having won such a big contract, until Carla points out she’s made a critical error – they don’t have the material to fulfil it.

“Aidan and Alya were a partnership, and the reason she messes up this new order is because she doesn’t have him there to consult,” explains Sair. “She has so much going on in her head, so it’s an easy mistake for her to make.”

It’s not long before Carla delivers some choice words to Alya about her error. While it’s her grief and fear doing the talking, Alya doesn’t realise that – and tells Carla that she can stick her job.

“It goes from zero to 100!” says Sair. “Carla makes some personal digs, which feel like a big blow to Alya because they are rude and nasty. She snaps as she's trying to do the right thing, but Carla has given her a huge slap in the face."

However, Carla's worst nightmare is about to come true, as Imran discovers Aidan's will on the photocopier in Adam's office and realises that Alya is the sole beneficiary. He rushes over to reveal the truth, and now Alya is the one holding all the cards...

"Carla Connor has met her match," warns Sair. "Alya is in disbelief, but it does make sense as Aidan knew how much she believes in the factory. Aidan wanted Alya to carry that on for him."

Can Alya make it work – particularly as the Connors will be gunning for her?

"Absolutely! One hundred per cent!" asserts Sair. "But she needs help and support around her, and people that believe in her. I'd tell her, 'Stay strong, stay focused and believe in what you are doing – you can do this!'"

Kate White

MIKE BALDWIN

Wheeler-dealer Mike was the original Cockney wide boy of Weatherfield, and his days in charge are legendary. He was tough and ruthless, but without Mike, there would be no factory today – despite his many falls from grace! Carla is cut from the same cloth, and we would love to see her start smoking fat cigars!

DANNY BALDWIN

Arch-manipulator Danny schemed his way into control of Underworld, though he was a diamond geezer in many ways. His nicknames for the factory staff were never politically correct (Kelly 'Legs' Crabtree, Sean 'Mincemeat' Tully, Fiz 'Fuzzball' Brown, Janice 'Lippy' Battersby), but we loved his mix of humour and scheming.

CARLA & LIAM CONNOR

The death of Paul left in-laws Liam and Carla in charge, and they were an explosive combination. A winning team with clients, but at war with each other – the sexual tension between them was dynamite in the office. Don't forget it was behind the blinds they shared their first, electric kiss!

HOME AND AWAY'S CARIBA HEINE

Ebony is a real piece of work!”
Home and Away
newcomer
Cariba Heine

tells us, as we probe her on her Summer Bay character.

“She’s grown up in a manipulative and dangerous crime family, so she doesn’t think twice about taking a wrecking ball to someone’s life if they’re in her way. She causes pain to anyone who has the misfortune of crossing her path –
I wouldn’t want to know her!”

We’ve only had a fleeting glimpse of Ebony so far, but judging by that glowing reference from Cariba, we’re in for a rocky ride! She turned up in the Bay last week, pretending to have a flat tyre so she could get closer to Colby – and this week, she fakes a car accident to get Justin in trouble with the cops! So why does she have a vendetta against so many people?

“Ebony wants revenge on Colby for killing her brother,
Boyd,” explains
Cariba. “She wants the pain to be felt as widely as possible, so she has to ingratiate herself
with Summer Bay to figure out how to do the most

Ebony has the cop in her sights

ever seen a cat playing with a mouse instead of ending its misery? That's Ebony! She's pretty despicable."

But Ebony isn't alone in her troublemaking – her mum Hazel is pulling her strings. The formidable woman is played by Genevieve Lemon, who Neighbours fans of a certain age may remember as Ramsay Street's Brenda Riley. And Cariba informs us that she's having a hoot acting alongside Genevieve.

"As the matriarch, Hazel is used to having the final say on everything," reveals the actress. "She has no idea of the monster she's created in Ebony, so they're definitely going to butt heads. I have so much fun playing that dynamic opposite Genevieve."

Landing a role on Home and Away has been a dream come true for Cariba, who's previously starred in Aussie shows H2O: Just Add Water and Blue Water High. Luckily, she had a good friend on set to show her the ropes.

"I know Sarah Roberts [Willow] really well, so it's lovely to work together," grins the star. "I watched Home and Away when I was growing up, and I feel like every other actor I know has been on the show!"

"This seemed like such a special role, and I had so much fun putting the audition down on tape," adds Cariba. "Ebony has a real sadistic streak, so you'll have to tune in and find out what else she gets up to. I hope she gets a rise out of people!"

Taking a LIBERTY!

Dirk's daughter is recast as Jessamy Stoddart...

As Liberty makes an unexpected return to the village, we chat to newcomer – and West End musical star – Jessamy Stoddart, to find out what's in store for Dirk's daughter...

Savage pardon:
Why is Liberty
flanked by police?

Welcome, Jessamy – were you nervous about joining Hollyoaks?

I think it just happened so fast that I didn't have any time to be nervous! It was the best thing that could have happened – bish-bash-bosh and I was in!

Liberty turns up out of the blue – why has she come back home after all this time?

Well, she's had five years in LA, which I think can be a bit of a struggle, especially if you've not had your big break. The reason she's back becomes clear, which will make for some funny episodes! She explains her journey, and that's all I can tell you for now.

What's her relationship with her dad, Dirk, like?

Wonderful. She's an absolute daddy's girl! They have a lovely relationship. It's nice to get the family unit together!

Will she be making any new friends in the village?

Liberty gets on with everyone! Even if they don't get on with her, she wouldn't even realise. If someone was being mean, she would completely think, 'Oh, they've had a bad day! I'll buy them some flowers'. Nothing ever affects her. She's just so easy breezy.

Milo takes a shine to Liberty – what does she make of him?

She just thinks he's lovely. She might 'friend-zone' him a bit without realising, but there is that element where you put the two of them together and it's quite lovely to look at.

Liberty loves to sing – will you be using your musical skills at any point in the future?

I might be – but maybe not in the way you're expecting!

What else can we expect from Liberty – any romance?

She falls in love hard and fast – I'll say that! So maybe some romance, who knows?

10 totally true FACTS about... Chris Bisson

YOUR Inside Soap BRIEFING ON THE MAN BEHIND EMMERDALE'S JAI...

1 Christopher Paul Bisson was born to his Trinidadian parents on 21 July 1975 in Wythenshawe, Manchester. As a teenager, Chris made his television debut as JJ in the ITV kids' drama Children's Ward in 1990. However, he didn't take part in school plays or go to stage school, claiming that he was always too shy! "I completely fell into [acting] by chance," he explains. "I got offered a job on telly when I was 12 and started from there." After his early TV success, he went on to make his name at the box office too, playing Saleem Khan in the 1999 film adaptation of East Is East, and the lead role of Jimi Chopra in 2005 flick Chicken Tikka Masala.

2 Before his move to Emmerdale, Chris made his soap debut in Corrie in 1999, playing the regular role of shopkeeper Vikram Desai. Chris stayed in Weatherfield until 2002, when Vikram was forced to flee after trying to set up Steve and Karen McDonald for drug-smuggling! Vikram is still alive and well and living in India, so there's always the possibility for a cobbles return...

3 Chris joined the Emmerdale cast in 2009 as Jai, part of the Sharma family, introduced with his siblings Nikhil (Rik Makarem) and Priya (Effie Woods). During his time on the soap, Jai has had two wives (Charity and Megan), and fathered two kids (Archie and Eliza), and found out about another daughter he'd never known about (Mia). He's also been the engineer of many a scheme and villainous plot.

4 Outside of soap, Chris is perhaps best known for playing Kash Karib in four series of Channel 4's comedy drama Shameless. Kash was revealed to be secretly gay, and was seen to cheat on his wife with underage employee Ian – before later being killed off in a fire. Chris has also guest starred in episodes of Casualty, Holby City, Prime Suspect and Hotel Babylon.

5 Although he's appeared in plenty of television dramas, Chris says he would much rather watch sport or documentaries whenever he's in front of the box. "I mainly watch sport – especially football or cricket," confirms the star. "I love football and support Manchester United. My uncle took me to a United game when I was young and I was hooked!"

7 Chris is engaged to his long-term partner Rowena Finn, having been in a relationship with her since 2006. The pair have a couple of children – five-year-old son, Harry, and daughter Ella Rose, who's two. Chris asked Rowena to marry him after they celebrated their first 10 years together, and he announced her response by tweeting 'SHE SAID YES' in Scrabble pieces. Awww!

8 Way back when Chris was just a teenager, he stood up future Brookside actress and film star Anna Friel! Appearing on the CBBC show 12 Again, Chris confessed that he had been due to meet her at a cinema, but left her waiting. We hope she got over her disappointment!

6 Chris also admits to being a huge golf fanatic – and whenever he has free time and the weather is good, he enjoys playing a few rounds with his pals. "It's a fairly organic thing to do," he shares. "I turn off my mobile, meet a few friends, and go for a walk round the countryside – and hit a ball as we go round!"

9 One of Chris' best mates is former Boyzone singer Keith Duffy. The pair met when they were both on Corrie, and they even lived together in Manchester. "When he first came to Coronation Street, Keith stayed at my house while he was flat-hunting," explains Chris. "Keith is Irish, and I go to Ireland a lot – I love it. My Irish accent is actually a replica of Keith's!"

10 Along with Corrie's Nicola Thorp (Nicola) and other celebs, Chris took part in Sport Relief's 'Clash Of The Channels' boat race earlier this year. Chris and his friends on the ITV team were coached by Olympic champion Steve Redgrave, and after much practicing on a rowing machine, they were ready to take on their rivals from the BBC. It was a close-run race, but sadly Chris and co were beaten to the finish line. Maybe it's time he thought about giving Strictly a call instead...

AS SHOCK WAVES CONTINUE TO REVERBERATE, ACTOR
ZACK MORRIS ADMITS THAT TRAUMATISED KEEGAN IS STILL STRUGGLING...

“Keegan blames himself for Shakil’s
death”

Keeagan may have survived the brutal stabbing which killed his best mate Shakil, but living on in the wake of such a trauma is no easy task for the troubled teen. This week, while grieving Carmel is determined to bring to an end the mindless violence which robbed her of her beloved boy, Keegan remains an angry young man. And Zack Morris, who plays him, admits his agonised alter ego faces a long and difficult journey as he battles to come to terms with Shaki's tragic loss...

How is what's happened to Shakil set to change Keegan?

We're going to see a very different Keegan. He's not very good at showing emotion and he keeps things under wraps. Things just bubble and bubble up until he's about to erupt – which is what happened when his father Mitch left. There was a build-up of emotion and he lashed out. So he's a lot more emotional – there's a lot less bravado and front coming off him. This is not something you can just move on from.

Have you been enjoying playing another side to him?

I have, it's been interesting. Every time we get a new storyline there are new things to work at and find out about your character. You have to put yourself in that person's shoes, and with a plot like this, that's going to be hard. But as an actor, it's a privilege to be doing this storyline.

What's Keegan been going through since Shakil's death?

He's very upset and angry, and he's feeling really distant. He's confused about what happened and how people are just moving on. He's very frustrated.

Does he blame himself for what happened to his friend?

Yeah, he blames himself and also Mick. When Keegan was found, he was trying to say Shaki's name, but Mick didn't realise. In Keegan's mind, if Mick had heard him, the outcome might have been different. But there's definitely a bit of remorse from Keegan. When he was in the hospital he said that if he hadn't nicked the bike, Shakil would still be alive. He blames himself for that.

What advice would you give him, if you were a mate of his?

Think before you act – that's the main thing. But it's not just for Keegan, it's for everyone. With this storyline it shows how these things can happen over something so petty. It's not that we did it to the extreme – this is happening in real life. Keegan needs to realise that every action has a consequence.

Have you been enjoying working with Bonnie Langford (Carmel)?

Yeah, it's great. Bonnie's great as an actress and as a person. She's a legend! It's been nice to work so closely with new people. I've worked with Bonnie before, but we haven't had in-depth scenes together, so it's been good.

How did you approach the storyline when you first found out about it?

I did some research online and watched documentaries. The show has also been working closely with Brooke Kinsella [formerly EastEnders' Kelly Taylor, whose brother Ben was fatally stabbed in 2008] and the Ben Kinsella Trust, and they've been really helpful. As an actor you want to be as realistic as possible.

Why is EastEnders a good platform for this kind of story, do you think?

Because people of all ages watch it. Kids, adults, mums and dads. I watched EastEnders growing up, but I didn't realise how vast the show's audience is until I was in it. The recognition I get on the street shows how many people watch. Loads of people will see the story and hopefully it will really hit home.

Allison Jones

A grieving MOTHER'S MISSION

While Keegan rages, Carmel is determined to make a difference...

Heartbroken Carmel remains immersed in grief this week, but pledges to honour her son's memory with a campaign to get knives off Walford's streets. She hopes to prevent more mothers losing their boys to needless violence with a knife amnesty at the community centre – but with Keegan consumed by fury, can Carmel help him through his pain?

"She's never really liked Keegan, so you'd think that Shakil's death would give her a reason to hate him even more," shares Zack. "But we'll actually see them interacting a lot over the next few weeks. There's still a clash there, but Keegan was Shakil's best friend, and she wants to know he's okay..."

Soap HALL OF FAME!

As This Morning hosts Holly Willoughby and Phillip Schofield turn up in Corrie this week, we look back at other famous faces who have played themselves in the soaps...

Joan Collins

Corrie (1997)

When Jack and Vera were upgraded to first class on their flight to Las Vegas, they were amazed to bump into Dynasty legend Joan Collins! Vera spilled drink all down herself, but Joan reassured her: "Don't worry, darling, it washes out! – I should know!"

Tony Christie

Emmerdale (2005)

In the same year that 70s singer Tony Christie made it to number one with (Is This The Way To) Amarillo, he also found his way to the Yorkshire Dales. During Tony's guest spot, he was chatted up by Viv Hope, but she failed to get anywhere when the singer spotted Diane across the room – who turned out to be his ex!

After a quick catch-up with Diane, Tony rushed off to begin his concert, and dedicated a song to her. Aww!

Boris Johnson

EastEnders (2009)

Initially, Peggy Mitchell wasn't keen on the then Mayor of London. She waited over an hour for a meeting with him, but he was a no-show. "If ever I clap eyes on that Mr Johnson, I'll give him a piece of my mind!" she growled. However, when Boris was forced to call into the Vic for help when his bicycle got a puncture, Peggy was all sweetness and light. "I do so admire a man who devotes his entire life to serving society," she cooed – the great suck-up!

Status Quo

Corrie (2005)

When Les Battersby married Cilla Brown, there were some very special guests at the reception. Rick Parfitt and Francis Rossi from Status Quo appeared in three episodes, after Les spotted them on the way to his wedding, and asked if they'd perform for him and his new wife. To try to impress the Quo, Les threw a television set out of the window – which unfortunately turned out to be one of his own wedding gifts!

Ed Sheeran

Home and Away (2015)

After Marilyn was reunited with 'Teddy' – the boy who she used to take care of when she lived in the UK during the 1990s – she was surprised to see her friends asking him for an autograph. Yes indeed, young 'Teddy' had grown up to become international music superstar Ed Sheeran, much to Marilyn's bemusement. The residents of Summer Bay persuaded Ed to play an intimate gig for the town to cheer them up – let's hope it did.

Kate Garraway

Hollyoaks (2017)

Good Morning Britain host Kate showed up in the village to cover the Amy Barnes murder trial.

Kate gave regular updates from the village and the courtroom itself, as we all waited with bated breath to find out if Ste would be found guilty. In fact, given how keen she was to get the scoop, it's odd Kate hasn't turned up in all the other soaps whenever there's been a murder...

Prince Charles

Corrie (2000)

To celebrate Corrie's 40th anniversary in 2000, the Street was visited by royalty. Audrey got to meet the heir apparent at the Weatherfield Town Hall, and this clash of the titans was shown on screen as part of a fictional news report within the programme. In fact, as the special episode went out live, the 'live' report was ironically the only part which had actually been pre-recorded!

Emma Bunton

Neighbours (2007)

When Karl and Susan visited London in 2007, he managed to accidentally lose the engagement ring he was planning to surprise her with! Fortunately, singer Emma Bunton found the precious ring on the pavement, and returned it to its rightful owner. Thinking that Karl had arranged the surprise meeting with the former Spice Girl, Susan was delighted – but Karl was left oblivious as to who Emma was!

LOUIZA PATIKAS

Coronation Street's Moira Pollock

...faces your questions!

Corrie's medical centre manager Moira has made a big impression on the Street – but how will actress Louiza deal with answering our readers' questions?

"What was your first day on Coronation Street like?"

The one thing I can remember is being so nervous! Walking down the corridor and thinking: 'One day, I'll be walking down these corridors feeling absolutely fine, instead of being completely petrified!' I'm in a dressing room called 'Visiting artists dressing room' and I really like that, because people are coming and going all the time – other new people share the room. That's quite jolly, and you feel like you're one of many people starting out.

"What was it like working with Vic Reeves?"

going all the time – other new people share the room. That's quite jolly, and you feel like you're one of many people starting out.

"What's the best thing about working alongside Bev Callard [who plays Liz]?"

I love her so much! I think I text her a bit too often, I've had to control myself! The best thing about working with her is that she's so much fun. And she's so professional, it's just incredible the way she turns it on. We have absolute fits of giggles, and a few times the directors have just had to let us get it out of our systems. I love the laughs, and I'm learning so much from her.

"What was it like working with Jim Moir (aka Vic Reeves)?"

Up for a laugh: Louiza loves getting to work alongside Bev Callard

He was fantastic, I really miss him. That was part of the nerves of the first few days as well – he's been a comedy hero of mine for so long. What was kind of cute was that he was also star-struck! He's watched the programme forever, and was so excited and nervous to be there too.

So we were both thrown in together, which was lovely. I loved every second of working with him.

"You're also in The Archers [Louiza plays Helen Archer] on Radio 4. Is it difficult trying to find a balance when you're in two soaps at once?"

It's not difficult balancing, because I've kind of clocked up quite a few years at The Archers. I've been doing it since 2000. They're like another family – they're very proud and they're very happy that I've got this other job, and the guys over here also seem to be happy to share me. I'm so lucky!

"You had a very high-profile domestic abuse storyline in The Archers – what was that like?"

Dizzy with nerves: Louiza was just as star-struck as her cast mate

Double dating: There's always plenty of comedy when Moira's around

It was a complete honour to be part of it. It took on its own momentum. It was a sort of incredible mix of a fantastic story; a brilliant editor and writers, mixed with the change in legislation. The public interest in those three things together made it bigger than it was, in a way. It was extraordinary to be part of it – really an honour – and we all desperately wanted to get it right.

“Is it strange being recognised by people in the street?”

It's very strange. I think some people perhaps take it in their stride. I'm like someone's gone 'bool' to me, every time it happens! I literally jump out of my skin and I can't quite believe it. I've been wandering around totally anonymous for such a long time, I turn round and I think they're talking to someone else. I've not got used to it yet, but I'm trying very hard.

“What do you think you would do if you weren't an actor?”

Hmm! Maybe a teacher?

My mum was a teacher, and I have such huge respect for teachers. We need to pay our teachers more. Every time I hear how much footballers are paid, I lose my temper!

“Are you enjoying Moira's comedy?”

She's brilliant, I love her! I think she's one of those people who sees herself a little bit differently from the way other people see her. There's something charming in that, and probably excruciating and

Keen for more: Louiza wants to share the screen with Sally maddening for other people! I think she's fabulous and I love her. The Corrie writers are phenomenal. As an actor, you get to know who they all are and how they write – and they seem to quite enjoy writing for her.

“Is it weird being recognised in the street?”

“Do you think you would be friends with Moira in real life?”

I'd probably love to have a drink with her in the pub as she would get a bit outrageous and quite fun. But I'm absolutely certain I couldn't work with her for more than an hour!

“If you could choose to play another character in Corrie, who would it be?”

...asks reader Elizabeth Kendrick from Bristol

It would have to be one of the old iconic characters, like Hilda Ogden or Elsie Tanner, so I could get the chance to do a northern accent. Someone as different from me as possible!

Every week, we put your questions to a star of the soaps. Look out for requests on our Facebook page, or email your questions to youask@insidesoap.co.uk, putting the actor's name in the subject line. Our favourite question each week will win a £20 prize!

Sound work: Louiza found her stories in The Archers an honour to be involved with

“Is there anyone you haven't worked with yet who you would like to work with on Corrie?”

They're all fantastic! I have done a little scene with Sally Dynevor [aka Sally], and I'd like to do more with her. I want to do more with Connie [Gina]... I mean all of them – they're incredible! Those are two who have just come to mind.

“Can you tease anything that's coming up for Moira?”

I can't think of anything I'm allowed to say! I can tell you a little bit of silly trivia from the costume department, though: Moira always has a matched hanky in her pocket. That's a spoiler for you. Watch out for Moira's colour co-ordinated hankies!

“Georgie gets herself into trouble!”

MICHELLE KEEGAN TELLS US WHY HER ALTER EGO CAN'T RESIST A CALL FOR HELP...

Hearts were shattered at the end of Our Girl's Nepal tour storyline last year, when special forces officer Elvis Harte was blasted off a rooftop by a bomb and died in the arms of his fiancée, Lance Corporal Georgie Lane. As the series returns this week for the first of eight episodes, Georgie is resuming her duties after compassionate leave – but it's clear Elvis' fate is still weighing heavily on her.

“She had six months off after Elvis' death,” explains Michelle Keegan, who plays Georgie. “Then she comes to meet Captain James and 2 Section again, so she puts her head back into work and focuses on that. She buries her head in the sand a lot and pretends everything's fine, but deep down she's heartbroken.”

Viewers were very vocal in their reaction to Elvis' death, and Michelle was thrilled people cared so much about Georgie and Elvis' romance – and she hopes they'll stay invested in what happens to Georgie as she tries to move on with life.

“I think the audience will miss him,” she muses. “As those four episodes [of last series] went out, I was working in Malaysia. When it was on TV, I was in bed – it was six in the morning – and I went on social media just to see what people were saying. It was a good reaction – a sad reaction, but a good one. Now this series is about moving forward and Georgie's life and grief.”

Georgie's return to duty sees her with her unit in Nigeria, where it's working to train local forces in the fight against terror – and Georgie is helping to train local medics. But things soon escalate when 2 Section has to deal with a group of mercenaries, and Georgie is again in danger.

“She always goes off!” grins Michelle. “She gets herself into trouble, but she wants to do good. She's naive, but keen to make a difference, and I think she believes she can help at any point. Whether it's about a child or a family, she wants to help and sometimes doesn't stay in the Army guidelines. She likes to live outside the box, but I love that about her.”

There's an aspect of playing Georgie that Michelle doesn't love quite so much, though: the training scenes where her character tackles the assault courses, as she's not quite as good at them as Georgie is...

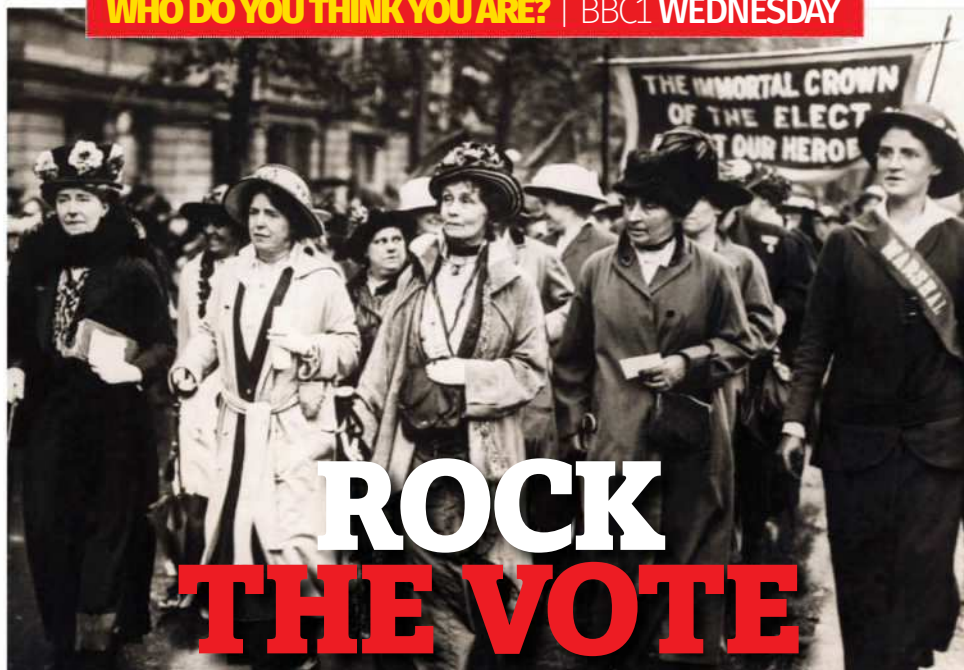

“I hated it!” she reveals. “I was always last – and on screen I can't always be last, so it was embarrassing! Shalom [Brune-Franklin], who plays Maisie, is quite active – and I had to be like, ‘Can you not leave me? Because if you run off and I'm left behind, it's going to look really bad!’”

ROCK THE VOTE

AN EPIC LOVE STORY AND A SUFFRAGETTE LEADER TURN UP IN MICHELLE'S FAMILY HISTORY...

The new series of Our Girl isn't the only place you'll be seeing Michelle this week. She's also appearing in a Who Do You Think You Are? special as part of the Hear Her season, marking the centenary of women gaining the right to vote in the UK. As Michelle looks into her family history, she learns that the registrar who signed her great-grandmother's Norah's birth certificate was none other than suffragette leader Emmeline Pankhurst.

"I didn't know that she was a registrar, so when I saw the name I didn't connect it at first," Michelle tells Inside TV. "It was just like, 'I've seen that name before - why is it on the birth certificate?' It wasn't until the researcher told me who she was that it clicked, which made it even more shocking."

Realising her great-great-grandmother Elizabeth knew Emmeline Pankhurst, Michelle looks for evidence she was active in the suffrage movement, and finds conclusive proof in the 1911 census.

"Her occupation on the census was 'suffragist'," reveals the star. "It just proved she was very proud of what she did and what she was trying to achieve - and her husband John, my great-great-grandfather, also signed the census, which means that he was in support of the movement as well. It makes me so happy."

The show also sees Michelle looking into her family history in Gibraltar, where she learns that her great-grandmother Leonor broke social convention for love.

"I only ever knew my great-grandma as an old lady who didn't speak any English - she was loving, though," she recalls. "She was a Roman Catholic in Gibraltar, and in the 1930s it was unheard of that you'd marry from different religions. She fell in love with my great-grandfather who wasn't a Roman Catholic, and instead of marrying in my great-grandma's parish, they went to another one and found a priest who would marry them. I just love that story as it's like a fairy tale - they had to jump so many hurdles to be together."

ACKLEY BRIDGE | Channel 4 TUESDAY

SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL

THERE ARE TESTING TIMES AHEAD FOR THE STAFF AND PUPILS OF ACKLEY BRIDGE, AS A NEW TERM BEGINS...

Drama class:
What's in store
for the students?

It's the start of a new term at Ackley Bridge this week, as the drama set around a recently integrated multicultural academy in Yorkshire returns for a second series.

It's also a new start of sorts for Nasreen Paracha, who – after coming out to her mother Kaneez in the first series – has reached an uneasy compromise about her sexuality that involves a sham engagement to Naveed, who's also in the closet. Nas' storyline struck a chord with viewers last year, as Amy-Leigh Hickman, who plays her, discovered...

"I was a little worried to begin with," admits the star. "I think I was naive to how much of an issue it still is – but coming up to Yorkshire, we spoke to people and got a feel for it, so I was a bit concerned about how some communities were going to react. It was amazing, though – I've had endless tweets, and people have come up to me when I've been out and literally said, 'Thank you for telling this story'."

When she discovers that faking a relationship at school invites just as many questions as it answers, Nas begins to doubt whether the plan is such a good idea – and the arrival of a stranger with a bombshell to drop on the Parachas leaves her reeling...

"She finds out her dad has a second family – which was before this one – so we see her dealing with that as well in episode one," reveals Amy-Leigh. "She has a brother who comes looking for her, and that's how she finds out."

Life is no easier for the teachers at Ackley Bridge, particularly head teacher Mandy Carter. Admissions figures are down, and she doesn't want the naysayers who didn't believe the school would succeed proved right.

"Mandy is concentrating on everybody getting really good results, so that people will want to come to this school," explains Jo Joyner, who plays her. "And Sadiq [the school sponsor] is putting a lot of pressure on her. He's numbers-driven, and not impressed with the way that she's a bit more like a social worker sometimes. It's that kind of battle."

To get underperforming students to improve their grades, Mandy decides to pull them out of non-core subjects – a decision that's very unpopular with the pupils, and also with her friend Emma Keane, Ackley Bridge's English teacher and resident revolutionary...

"Emma thinks it's ludicrous – and I agree," shares Liz White, who plays her. "If you take away the subjects that the kids are good at, where will their sense of self-esteem go if they're just presented with subjects they're going to struggle with? So she and Mandy come at loggerheads..."

Schooled: The teachers face an uphill battle getting the academy to succeed

LOVE ISLAND | ITV2 MONDAY

LOVE'S A BEACH

CAROLINE FLACK TELLS US WHY ROMANCE REALLY CAN BLOSSOM ON LOVE ISLAND...

We're not sure there's anyone working in TV right now with a higher level of job satisfaction than Caroline Flack – when Inside TV joins the presenter to chat about the upcoming series of Love Island, we're left in no doubt that she's so passionate about the show that she'd be glued to it even if she weren't the host. She's in good company too: last year's series established the show as a national talking point and the finale delivered record-breaking ratings for ITV2, so we set about trying to get the goss on what's in store for this year...

What can you tell us about this year's contestants?

I've just seen another cut of them, but it changes all the time. Last year there was a last-minute swap-over, so I don't know if this is the final sign-off! But they're really good – they've cast it very well. I already feel protective of them. I'm like, "Oh, I'm going to have to look after her..."

You must be besieged by people wanting the inside scoop at this time of year...

I get loads of messages from people going, "I've entered Love Island and I just want to know if my application's been received!". I always make sure as soon as we know who's going in, I follow them on Twitter so when they come out we can keep in touch. People from the first series still message me!

We saw you dressed up as a pilot to record the trailer for this year's series...

Yeah, that was fun. It was a whole day of filming for that wink! I got to keep the pilot's outfit – but I don't know when I'm ever going to use it!

Here's your pilot: Caroline is back to keep track of the passion

SHOP SMART: SAVE MONEY | Channel 5 WEDNESDAY

MARKET FORCES

FIONA PHILLIPS IS HERE TO HELP US MAKE SURE THAT WE CAN ALL FIND THE BEST BARGAINS...

Finding the best places to shop to make sure you get value for your money can almost be a full-time job in itself – so this new three-part series from Channel 5 is here to do a lot of the heavy lifting for us. Fiona Phillips and Gaby Roslin will be bringing us up-to-the-minute tips each week, making this a show we surely can't afford to miss...

"We'll be right in the middle of a working shopping centre in Bradford – I was really pleased about that," Fiona tells Inside TV. "I think that gives it something that no other programme has, in terms of talking about bargains and shopping. We'll be out with shoppers, gauging their reactions – people will be passing by and hopefully not swearing at us!"

Do you think people really can find love on this show?

I think it's more likely on a TV show than online. When you strip it back, we take their mobile phones away, they haven't got the internet, so they're going back to the art of conversation, which is like old-fashioned dating. And if you spend enough time with someone, maybe you're going to love them – or maybe not!

This week's episode will be delivering some timely World Cup-related bargains, and the team's resident Smart Shoppers will be helping a cash-stretched family get their supermarket spending under control.

"I get really angry when I'm in a supermarket and something's tagged as an offer, but I've seen it cheaper than that two weeks before," shares Fiona. "This is real, proper, on-the-ground people shopping, and the things we come up against every day – what's a true bargain, and what's a con? I'm really looking forward to it!"

VERSAILLES | BBC2 MONDAY

COURTING DISASTER

ALEXANDER VLAHOS REVEALS WHY PHILLIPE'S GOING SOLO, AS THE LAVISH PERIOD DRAMA RETURNS...

French history buffs and lovers of elaborate fashion have reason to celebrate this week as BBC2's Versailles, set in the opulent court of King Louis XIV, begins its third and final run.

As the King celebrates a major military victory with even more ambitious plans for his palace, his brother Philippe returns from war to a hero's welcome – but acts coldly towards his lover, the Chevalier de Lorraine.

"Philippe puts love aside," explains Alexander Vlahos, who plays him. "With the Chevalier comes drama, and post-war Philippe is done with drama! In season two, we played every single emotional beat we could possibly play, so I think it's for the greater good of the show that they have this separation – but they keep coming back to each other. They're like magnets!"

This series will also incorporate one of the most compelling stories of French history – the prisoner who was held in jail for 34 years, and whose face was never seen.

"We all know the mythology of the man in the iron mask," says Alex. "But who that person was is left to people's imagination. In series three, it represents the biggest threat to Louis' identity yet. Philippe is the one who discovers the man in the iron mask and wants to figure out who it is. By his own intuition, he unravels a family mystery that has been going on for years and years..."

French connection: Philippe and his brother Louis

Going through stages

This Arena documentary opens with the acknowledgement that, from time to time, actresses and long-term friends Dame Eileen Atkins, Dame Judi Dench, Dame Joan Plowright and Dame Maggie Smith get together in the countryside to shoot the breeze together. We're not exaggerating when we say there is no event in the world we've ever been so desperate to be invited to.

It's unlikely that we'll ever get to attend in person, but this film gives us the next best thing as the quartet allow the cameras to capture one of their meet-ups and for Nothing Hill director Roger Michell to help steer their reminiscences. It's nostalgic, witty and revealing – in other words, everything we dared to dream it would be...

And the winner is...?

Not to pile on the pressure or anything, but for the acts who impressed the voting public enough to land themselves a place in tonight's live final, one performance could be enough to change their lives. As we've seen in previous years, a truly spectacular turn-out at this point can mean an underdog (and this is one of the only shows on TV where we can use that word extremely literally) could beat out the hot favourite, which is what makes a BGT final so exciting to watch.

We're writing this ahead of seeing the semi-finals, so we have no idea which acts have made it through to perform again tonight, but we'll be very surprised if father-son singer-songwriter duo Jack and Tim aren't among them...

FRANKIE GOES TO RUSSIA | BBC2 9PM

The decision to hold the 2018 World Cup in Russia has already caused significant controversy, with concerns being raised about endemic racism in Russian football and the country's anti-LGBT legislation. Ahead of the competition kicking off next week, Frankie Boyle travels to Russia for this two-part series to discover the truth behind those headlines and find out what the World Cup really means to its host country. He'll be checking out some host cities (including Kaliningrad, where England are due to play Belgium later this month) and investigating how unruly fans will be handled.

THE JEREMY THORPE SCANDAL | BBC4 10PM

As A Very English Scandal concludes over on BBC1, this documentary sheds new light on the real-life events that inspired it. In 1979, Panorama reporter Tom Mangold covered the Jeremy Thorpe trial and a programme was prepared for broadcast after the verdict, but it was shelved when he was found not guilty. Nearly four decades later, a revised edition will finally be shown...

CARNAGE | Sky One 8PM

The final six teams compete for a spot in next week's final, but who'll emerge victorious from the wreckage? Cornish Cannons driver Josie is planning to match her nails to the team's car, so let's hope that doesn't mean 'broken'.

LAW & ORDER: SPECIAL VICTIMS UNIT | Universal 10PM

Tonight's finale carries on from last week's hostage storyline, as the SVU team investigates the events that led up to it. In the process, they discover a dangerous criminal network – but to keep them at bay, the network targets Stone's sister.

SUFFRAGETTES WITH LUCY WORSLEY | BBC1 8.30PM

Women at war

A hundred years ago, a historic piece of legislation was passed: the Representation Of The People Act 1918, which gave women the right to vote – as long as they were over 30 and owned property. This meant that over eight million women were able to participate in the democratic process for the first time, but it had taken a long and bloody battle to get there.

In this one-off documentary, Lucy Worsley delves into the history of the Suffragettes to tell us about the women who aren't as well-remembered as the Pankhurst family or Emily Wilding Davison, but whose devotion to the cause was no less vital: women like Annie Kenney and Flora Drummond, whose own words reveal why the mission mattered to them.

THE QUEEN'S CORONATION IN COLOUR | ITV 9PM

Regional variations

The wedding of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle (or the Duke and Duchess of Sussex, as we should probably get used to calling them) reminded us that major royal events are still a massive television draw, but the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II in 1953 was the first time ordinary people could see such pageantry from their own homes. Now, 65 years later, Alexander Armstrong presents this retrospective of the big day, featuring reminiscences from famous faces including Alison Steadman, and members of the public sharing the home videos that immortalised their Coronation Day parties.

SUPERGIRL | Sky One 8PM

Kara has always favoured curing over killing, so when she discovers that it might be possible to reverse the creation of the Worldkillers – thereby defeating Reign without sacrificing Sam –

she's determined to make it work. The secret lies within a Kryptonian stone that Winn and Lena have located on an asteroid, but when she gets there, Kara realises it's not just any asteroid: it's a piece of Krypton that survived her home planet's destruction...

MY DREAM HOME | W 7PM

Handsome and handy property experts Drew and Jonathan Scott are back to help more families turn a fixer-upper into a complete keeper. Engaged couple Belinda and Tiago are up for a renovation job – but only if their families can help...

GONE | Universal 9PM

Mel Foster seems to be well on his way to rehabilitation in prison in tonight's finale, if we can assume him to even be capable of such a thing – but some shocking news means Kick's hard-won new life is at risk of crumbling around her.

BRIDE & PREJUDICE | Channel 4 9PM

DON'T Miss!

Relative obscurity

Finding a person you want to spend the rest of your life with can bring you great happiness – but as this series explores, it can also lay the groundwork for considerable heartache.

Each of the engaged couples featured in the show has at least one family member who isn't happy about the wedding, and that's casting a cloud over their big day. For 24-year-old Dee, it's the fact that her granddad Paul isn't happy that her fiancé John is only eight years younger than him.

Shaaba's mum Fai wanted her daughter to marry within her Mauritian culture, and fiancé Jamie doesn't fit the bill for more than one reason, while Rob's parents can't accept that he's engaged to another man.

DON'T Miss!

Room for improvement

THE HOTEL INSPECTOR: THE WALKOUT | Channel 5 9PM

"I've seen some terrible rooms in my time, but nothing could have prepared me for this," teases Alex Polizzi at the start of this new series – her 10th year as the hotel inspector, which must surely qualify her for sainthood. The Crown in Aldbourne, Wiltshire isn't just Alan's business, it's his home. But he's not making any money from it, and has called in Alex to help him keep a roof over his head. Her first impressions are far from positive: the rooms are dirty and the décor is dingy, and so for only the third time in her decade of duty, Alex declines the invitation to stay the night on the premises.

FRESH OFF THE BOAT | Comedy Central 8PM

5STAR originally showed this US sitcom last year, but we weren't best pleased when they abandoned it halfway through the second season. Let's hope Comedy Central treat it a little better as they pick it up from the beginning. Set in the mid-90s, it follows the Huang family as they move from Washington DC's Chinatown to the very white Orlando, Florida, where things work a little differently...

BLACK-ISH | E4 7.30PM

Dre and Bow are trying to work out their marital issues in a way that minimises the stress on their kids, and all credit to them for that. But their strategy of 'nesting' – taking it in turns to be in the family home – has less than optimal results.

GOTHAM | E4 9PM

Sofia and Penguin are throwing a charity gala to raise funds for the city's orphanage, but they should perhaps have screened their caterers more carefully – Professor Pyg hijacks the event and plans to serve up something truly unappetising.

GRENFELL: THE FIRST 24 HOURS | ITV 9PM

Walking through fire

It's nearly one year since the fire that destroyed Grenfell Tower in north Kensington and caused the deaths of over 70 people, and the public inquiry into the disaster continues.

This documentary marks this sombre anniversary by bringing together accounts from survivors, eyewitnesses and members of the emergency services to chart the timeline from the first report of the blaze at 12:54am on 14 June 2017, to the point when the fire brigade brought the fire under control over 24 hours later. Contributors to the film include Grenfell residents Alison Moses, who recalls how calm she was about the fire until she saw it from outside, and Clarita Ghavini, who woke up in her 10th floor flat unable to get out.

GREAT RAIL RESTORATIONS WITH PETER SNOW | Channel 4 8PM

Regional variations

Since he was four years old, TV presenter and historian Peter Snow has loved playing with model trains, but there are limits to what you can achieve with an OO gauge replica. So Peter's scaling up his ambitions in this new series, in which he and Henry Cole will be restoring four iconic carriages from the history of British rail travel to their erstwhile glory. Tonight they travel to the Vale of Llangollen in North Wales, where a passenger car from 1912 is in need of some serious TLC, and Henry brings us a spot of railway history as he investigates how travellers endured trips without toilets.

JON RICHARDSON: ULTIMATE WORRIER | Dave 10PM

What if we were to tell you that TV could bring about the apocalypse? Well, we'd be lying a little bit: we're talking about the asteroid TV135, which has a 99.998 per cent chance of missing Earth –

“Not quite enough nines, is it?” frets Jon. Desiree Burch and Nish Kumar will be joining him to sift through this and other concerns tonight, such as what we will look like in the next stage of evolution...

GET SHORTY | Sky Atlantic 9PM

The IT Crowd's Chris O'Dowd and “Everybody Loves” Ray Romano team up for this comedy-drama about an enforcer for a crime ring who chases a debt to Los Angeles – and sticks around to try to become a film producer.

TIMELESS | E4 10PM

The sci-fi drama serves up a rip-roaring finale tonight, as the team travel to San Francisco in 1888 to rescue stranded Jiya. There's no word yet on a third season, but this show has already come back from the dead once, so all bets are off.

SUPERSHOPPERS | Channel 4 8PM

Hey, big spenders

It's a banner week for bargain-hunters: after Channel 5 brought us new series Shop Smart: Save Money yesterday (and you can see p62 for more information on that one if you haven't done so already), Channel 4 welcomes well-established consumer show Supershoppers back for a fifth run tonight, to guide us through the potential pitfalls of retail.

In tonight's opener, presenters Anna Richardson and Sabrina Grant will be investigating the famous "never knowingly undersold" price promise of John Lewis and whether shoppers can rely on it. There's also an undercover operation at a major high-street chain that reveals its staff giving customers dodgy advice that could leave them out of pocket...

DON'T Miss!

The sweetest thing

SECRETS OF THE CHOCOLATE FACTORY: INSIDE CADBURY | Channel 5 9PM

Cadbury makes over 350 tonnes of milk chocolate every day (an amount we generally refer to as "one serving" here at Inside TV) and has been one of the most iconic British brands since it was founded in 1824. But it hasn't always been plain sailing: a salmonella scare caused a PR nightmare in 2006, and in 2010 it was subject to a hostile takeover by US-based company Kraft Foods. This documentary explores the history of Cadbury, from the sweet to the sour, and speaks to people closely associated with the company – like 'Flake Girl' Janis Levy, who appeared in an iconic ad at the age of 16.

QUANTICO | Alibi 9PM

Much like Alex Parish herself, this patchy thriller has dodged death on several occasions – though due to low viewing figures rather than terrorist masterminds. Its luck ran out a few weeks ago when US broadcaster ABC cancelled it, so make the most of this third and final season. Alex has been lying low in Italy for three years, pretending she's a retired lawyer named Parvati, but she can't hide forever – especially when an old friend needs her help.

MADAM SECRETARY | Sky Living 9PM

It's the end of the world as we know it, and Elizabeth's feeling far from fine in tonight's finale. When a nuclear strike is narrowly avoided after a disastrous misunderstanding, the Secretary of State vows it must never happen again...

THE GOOD FIGHT | More4 9PM

The superlative US legal drama wraps up its second season tonight, as Adrian and Julius are invited to join a think tank to tackle the 'Kill All Lawyers' campaign, and the FBI's questioning of Diane has unexpected consequences.

THE CRYSTAL MAZE: CELEBRITY SPECIAL | Channel 4 9PM

Clear as crystal

The general public have had their chance to shine in the Crystal Dome (and to be fair, it's quite hard not to shine under the lights in those jumpsuits), so now Richard Ayoade's puzzle maze is turning back to the world of celebrity.

One of the joys of the famous face version of Crystal Maze is the apparent randomness of the teams, and that's definitely on display here as tonight's motley crew consists of grime MC Big Narstie, Olympic champions Greg Rutherford and Dame Kelly Holmes, former Hollyoaks star Jorgie Porter, and YouTube sensation Alfie Deyes. The entire experience of Richard interacting with Big Narstie is worth the price of admission alone, to be perfectly honest.

DON'T Miss!

CRUISING WITH JANE McDONALD | Channel 5 9PM

Nothing gives us greater joy than being able to say "BAFTA winner Jane McDonald" as the delightful travelogue led by the irrepressible entertainer returns for a fourth series after winning the Features trophy at the TV awards ceremony last month. Jane's first trip is a big 'un spanning two episodes as she takes in the sights of Australia and New Zealand, starting in Sydney. Jane can't resist a backstage glimpse of the Opera House before departing for Tasmania and then on to New Zealand's South Island, where Jane finds out about Dunedin's Scottish heritage and tries playing the bagpipes.

SENSE8 | Netflix

It's testament to the passion of this show's fandom that it's back with us: Netflix axed it last year, citing the cost of its ambitious globe-spanning filming process as the main reason, but fans petitioned so enthusiastically for more Sense8 that it returns today with a two-hour special to wrap up its unresolved arcs. The cluster, along with their sidekicks and some new allies, regroup for a final mission to defeat the BPO and protect their future.

THE STAIRCASE | Netflix

Fans of Making A Murderer and The Keepers should prepare to become engrossed in this latest true-crime series. It documents the extraordinary 16-year judicial case of Michael Peterson, who was accused of murdering his wife Kathleen.

BULL | Fox 10PM

Maybe Bull overestimated his abilities when he took on the 'unwinnable' case of Elliott Miles, as Miles is found guilty in tonight's finale. New evidence that could exonerate him turns up before he receives his sentence, but is it too late?

IN and OUT

We spin soap's revolving door...

IN BEN HALL

(Ned Willis, Neighbours)

There will be a surprise in store for Terese and Piper this summer, when Ned rocks up in Erinsborough – and he's hiding a big secret! Ben Hall tells us he's delighted to be reprising the role. "It's really nice to be back around familiar faces – and also some new ones – and pick up where the character left off," he says. "Ned is very complex, which makes him interesting and a lot of fun to play out."

20 June

HANNAH SPEARRITT (Kandice Taylor, EastEnders)

IN Hannah Spearritt has returned to set filming as Kandice – and co-star Lorraine Stanley (Karen) promises lots of laughs. "It's a really silly story – it's camp and funny," she chuckles. "Amid all the darker stuff, you need some comedy, and Kandice coming back brings that. We're filming it now and it's brilliant." Summer

BEN PRICE (Nick Tilsley, Corrie)

IN David will need all the support he can get after reporting Josh's attack to the police – so it's a good job his big brother Nick is on his way back to the cobbles soon. Summer

DAVID TAG (Syler McQueen, Hollyoaks)

IN Goldie's half-brother Syler will rock up in Hollyoaks later this month – and David can't wait to get started on the soap. "It's great to be joining the cast of Hollyoaks and the infamous McQueen family," he grins. "I'm looking forward to playing to role of Syler, bad boy come good, and mixing things up in the village." June

THE EX FILES!

What are the one-time stars of soap up to now?

JORGIE IS FAMOUS!

Former Hollyoaks star Jorgie Porter (Theresa McQueen) is set to make her stage debut in a UK tour of Fame The Musical. "I am so excited to be playing Iris Kelly in Fame," she gushes. "The musical is one of my favourite-ever films. I've not had a chance to perform ballet for a long time – it's what I originally trained in, so I'm looking forward to getting my ballet shoes on." The tour kicks off in Manchester in July.

SAM STRIKES AGAIN!

There's not much chance of Sam Strike ever reprising his role as Walford's Johnny Carter, as he's gone into space – well, kind of! The star has joined the cast of SYFY's Nightflyers, based on the novel of the same name by Game Of Thrones author George RR Martin.

Sam plays Thale, a powerful telepath who detects a malevolent force lurking aboard The Nightflyer during an expedition to the edge of our solar system. The show is expected to debut in the autumn.

SHAYNE'S JUNGLE ADVENTURE!

Rumours are circulating that former cobbles star Shayne Ward (Aidan) could be joining I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here! – and his Coronation Street colleague Kym Marsh (Michelle) is championing the move. "He'd definitely be entertaining if he was to head into the jungle!" she reckons. "Shayne would be fun and a good sport – and he'd probably sing the entire time, as that's what he used to do all day at work!"

THEATRE

3 WOMEN

This female-led play explores what it means to be a woman in the 21st century – and the consequences of the generational gap on cultural expectations and family dynamic. Starring former EastEnders Anita Dobson (Angie Watts), it's on at London's Trafalgar Studios until 9 June – to buy tickets, visit www.trafalgarentertainment.com/shows/3-women

DVD

Downsizing

When scientists find a way to shrink humans to five-inches tall, Paul Safranek (Matt Damon) and his wife Audrey (Kristen Wiig) decide to ditch their stressed-out lives to go small – and live large – in a downsized community.

Win!

For the chance to win a copy, tell us which actress plays Audrey Roberts in Coronation Street: A) Patti Clare or B) Sue Nicholls. Text ISPRIZE1, a space, then A or B and your name & address to 84988 (50p). Or see below for postal entries.

BOOK

THE HIDEAWAY
by Sheila O'Flanagan

After Juno finds herself without the man she loves, she chooses to flee to a villa in Spain – and while her broken heart begins to mend when she meets Pep, there's another bombshell ready to explode.

For the chance to win a copy, tell us which Aussie soap features Sheila Canning: A) Neighbours or B) Home and Away. Text ISPRIZE2, a space, then A or B and your name & address to 84988 (50p). Or see below for postal entries.

STAR CHOICE

Hollyoaks' Nikki Sanderson (Maxine)

"I've just watched Schitt's Creek on Netflix. It's hilarious, and I absolutely loved it. It's about an affluent family in America who lose everything. A year before that, though, they bought a town called Schitt's Creek, and it's the only place they can live. It's made by the writers of the American Pie films, and Catherine O'Hara – the mum from Home Alone – stars in it. She's very good."

BOOK

KISS ME, KILL ME by JS Carol

When Zoe Chapel falls for Daniel Barton, her life is turned upside down – but not in the way she imagined. The charming man she goes on to marry becomes controlling and abusive – and while Zoe plots her escape, Dan has a plan of his own...

For the chance to win a copy, tell us which Hollyoaks character is pretending to be in an abusive relationship: A) Kyle or B) Jesse. Text ISPRIZE3, a space, then A or B and your name & address to 84988 (50p). Or see below for postal entries.

BLU-RAY

All the Money in the World

When 16-year-old John Paul Getty III is kidnapped, his devoted mother Gail races against time as her son's life hangs in the balance – revealing the true value of love over money. Starring Michelle Williams and Mark Wahlberg.

For the chance to win a copy, tell us which Dingle was recently kidnapped in Emmerdale: A) Belle or B) Aaron. Text ISPRIZE4, a space, then A or B and your name & address to 84988 (50p). Or see below for postal entries.

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

Zeedan's exit was so sudden and pointless! Why give him his own restaurant only to suddenly pack him off for a new life in London?

Not a soul has twigged that Lachlan seems to be coping remarkably well following his third significant bereavement this year. No wonder so many people get away with murder in Emmerdale – the locals are all too wrapped up in themselves to notice!

We don't think this fella is Gerry's Uncle Terry at all. We think he's Michelle's stalker Tom from EastEnders – moving on to a new patch.

BULLSEYE!

Walford's knife-crime plot has shone a light on a real and terrifying problem faced by this country. The image of stabbed Keegan and Shakil will haunt us for a long time to come. However, it was the searing grief of devastated mum Carmel – portrayed by the peerless Bonnie Langford – that really brought the agony home. A tough day at the office for Bonnie, we imagine – but very necessary.

Kudos to EastEnders for ticking its trademark 'current affairs' box, sacrificing a sunny weekend to film these Royal Wedding scenes. It helps Walford to feel very joined-up and real.

Gabby's sassy new wave and highlights really suit her. She's like a surly Kate Middleton.

There are 60ft neon advertising screens in Piccadilly Circus that are more subtle than the look of guilt plastered across Kate's face when she was quizzed by the police. We're surprised she wasn't cuffed there and then.

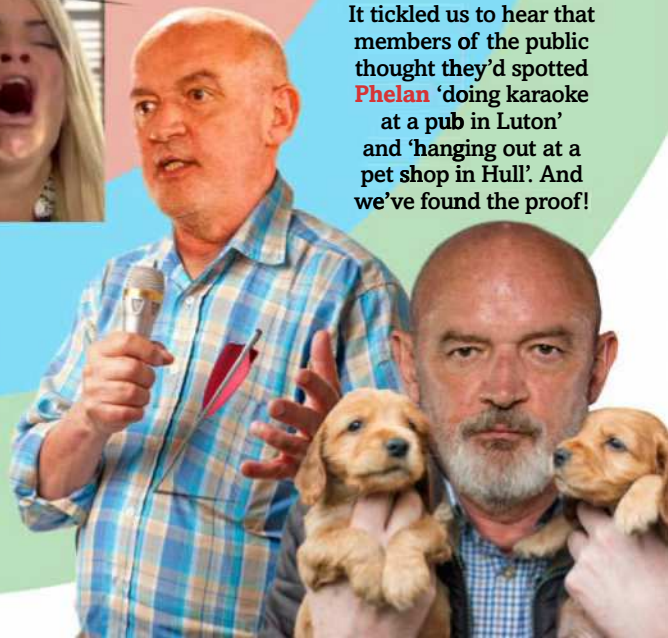

No one does 'howl of infinite despair' quite like Grace in Hollyoaks. We were worried we were going to fall in!

You're not a true member of the EastEnders family until Kat has jiggled the twins in your face. Welcome, Ted!

It tickled us to hear that members of the public thought they'd spotted Phelan 'doing karaoke at a pub in Luton' and 'hanging out at a pet shop in Hull'. And we've found the proof!

After watching a character grow up on a soap, it's really wrong when you suddenly realise they're all-kinds-of-hot, rocking a beard and a three-piece. Really, really wrong!

WTF?! Hayley has been hiding a pregnancy bump? And Alfie bloomin' Moon is the father? Blurk! Have we eaten too many Haribo and started to hallucinate?
